Some nights I'm dreaming, I really feel
I'd like to fly...to fly away.
I know that dreams and reality
Are just illusions and will always be that way.

But I can feel it, you are not so far
I know that someone is waiting by I'm only hoping that it won't be
The disappointment that my life is used to see.

You're not so far
Don't you see me?
You know that time
Is running out.
Let me embrace a dream now
Before it slides far away
I don't just want to hold you
Give me your hand
And live it just for one day.
I want you to hug me much more
Don't you leave me alone again
Inside my dream.
Just don't go, but stay with me
My eyes I want not open baby my heart still bleeding anything I do, know I got a reason I now believe this is my season will you be there when I need it last night was amazing and you never ever make me feel alone when I feel alone you are always in my soul. That's 100 bitches around me, but I choose you I wish to be the man of your dreams baby, would you choose me.....

You're really near me
You're only mine
And I will always
Be with you
I know you'll disappear
My eyes.....
I WAN NOT REOPEN
